AAoA, EOC continue meal deliveries, additional services for elders

The Colville Tribal Emergency Operations Center and local Area Agency on Aging continue to serve elders on the Colville Indian Reservation through daily meal delivery and additional services.

Between the EOC's inception March 17 and May 11, the EOC and AAoA had delivered 20,251 meals with over 500 meals daily on many recent days.

According to AAoA Director and EOC Liaison Larry Robinette, last year AAoA served at meal sites and through home deliveries a total of 38,500 meals.

Along with meal deliveries, the EOC and AAoA have worked to help elders with outside chores, such as chopping wood and lawn care, help getting medicine delivered, assistance with doctors appointments, grocery pick ups, access to cleaning supplies, and personal protective equipment.

Currently, there is no end date defined for the Colville Tribal EOC.

EOC and AAoA continue assisting elders, age 55 years and older, and disabled community members in need of assistance during this time.

If you are an elder, or if you have an elder in your family in need of assistance, please call the Colville Tribal EOC at 509-634-7350.
