EOC continues to work with local businesses, facilities to prevent spread of COVID-19 on reservation

The Colville Tribal Emergency Operations Center continues to provide local stores, clinics and other businesses and facilities on the Colville Indian Reservation with personal protective equipment, guidance and other materials related to the prevention of COVID-19.

Currently, 14 positive cases of COVID-19 have been reported on the reservation, and 12 of those individuals have been released from isolation by medical professionals. We have a number of others in quarantine as they await test results to return.

Although our numbers are low, we know COVID-19 continues to circulate in our communities. Please continue to help us prevent the spread of COVID-19 by practicing social distancing and taking additional preventative action.

Wear a mask if you have to be in public to protect yourself and those around you.

Wash your hands and use hand sanitizer frequently. Stay home. Stay safe.

If you have symptoms of COVID-19, or if you have questions about symptoms you may be experiencing, call your medical provider.

On the Colville Indian Reservation all clinics are testing daily, Monday through Friday.

For emergencies, call 9-1-1.
